A reading adventure

Ein Drache und ein Ritter

Der Mond schien in Philipps Zimmer. Ganz silbern war der Teppich. Sogar Philipps Jeans über dem Stuhl sah aus, als wäre sie aus silbernen Fäden gewebt. Wie sollte man in so einer Nacht schlafen? Philipp lag im Bett, starrte zum Fenster hinaus und zählte die Sterne. Da hörte er plötzlich ein leises Rascheln neben seinem Bett. Erschrocken lugte er über den Bettrand. Auf dem Teppich lag das Buch, in dem er vorhin gelesen hatte. Ein Buch über Drachen und Ritter. Es war aufgeschlagen, obwohl Philipp ganz sicher war, dass er es zugeklappt hatte. Schlamm. Philipp streckte die Hand aus, um es zuzumachen. Da raschelte es wieder. Die weißen Seiten bewegten sich wie von einer weißen Hand umgeblättert. Er sah auf. Die Hand umgeblättert.

„Diese Katze ist kein bisschen schlauer als ihre Brüder und Schwestern“, sagte er. „Schnell ist sie schon, aber ...“, ... ich bin natürlich schneller.“
Bewundernd sahen die Bergmäuse zu ihm auf. Dann legten sie ihre Rüstungen an. So prächtig wie die von Gawain waren sie nicht, aber sie boten zuverlässigen Schutz gegen Katzenkrallen. Kichernd betrachteten sich die drei in einer Spiegelscherbe.
„Richtig gefährlich sehen wir aus“, sagte Schnittelbart.

„Ritterlich“, stellte Gawain fest. „Richtig ritterlich seht ihr aus. Nehmt die Nadeln und die Gabeln! Jetzt werden wir diese Meg aus der Burg jagen.“

CORNELIA FUNKE was born in 1958 in Dorsten, Westphalia. After graduating from high school, she studied Education and worked with many children from difficult backgrounds at a playground in a new building district in Hamburg. In addition, she began studying book illustration at the Hamburg State College of Design. Cornelia Funke has been writing and illustrating children's books since 1987.

ANNETTE SWOBODA, born and raised in 1962 in Weinheim an der Bergstraße, studied Arts Plastiques in Aix-en-Provence, France, and then graphic design in Mannheim. She has now been working as a freelance children's book illustrator for many years. She lives with her family on a farm in Friesland.

On a magical moonshine night, a little dragon suddenly jumps out of Philipp's book. A fierce knight is after the magical creature and before Philipp can even think about it, he is also in the middle of the chase. The mouse knight bravely stands in the way of the best mouse hunter far and wide and drives her away from Rabenschreck Castle. And Sten finds an amazing creature in his grandfather's mysterious wooden box: a Book Cruncher. Together they enter the wonderful world of books.

This magnificent read-aloud book brings together three wonderful picture book stories by Cornelia Funke. They tell all about the importance of courage and solidarity and the special magic of stories.

Let's discover nature!

Oh, was war das?
Die Vögel werfen Kerne hinunter.
Die mag der Igel auch.
Mit seinen spitzen Zähnen knockt er einen Sonnenblumenkern.
Dabei schmatzt er ziemlich laut!

About the series:

So many exciting and great animals live in our nature: in the forest, on the fields, by the river or in the garden. With this wonderful new Nature Child series about native animals and their habitats, we get to know them better. Each volume is dedicated to a different animal and explores its way of life. With a compact factual section.

- ✓ Brings children closer to native animals and their habitats
- ✓ Conveys Nature Child values: mindfulness, attentiveness and love for nature
- ✓ Lively texts and playful illustrations

Nora loves gymnastics. Her new coach Sven is a real superstar and everyone thinks he's cool. But whenever he gives Nora assistance, she feels uncomfortable. Is it okay the way he touches her? And is she even allowed to have such thoughts?

Abuse and sexualized violence against children mostly take place in their immediate surroundings. Often it also happens in sport clubs. In a gentle way, this book shows children how they can recognize their limits, set them and get help early.

NIKOLAI RENGER was born in Karlsruhe and studied visual communication at the HFG in Pforzheim. He works as a freelance illustrator for various publishers and agencies and has been working at Atelier Remise in Karlsruhe since 2013.

New appearance for Picture Mouse and Reading Lions

With our first reading books, we have been supporting children for over 45 years in the difficult process of learning to read. We attach particular importance on good stories about topics that inspire children who are just starting to read.

Learning to read is fun!

Even before the pandemic, the reading ability of fourth-graders had already declined. Studies have shown that during the pandemic the reading ability has been further challenged. We are responding with a revised grade level concept.

From now on, we will be using the ABeZeh learning-to-read font, which was specially developed for beginning readers and is also suitable for children with dyslexia. The amount of text has been reduced and the number of pictures has been increased. In addition, we are now using syllable colouring for the first and second grades, which has been proven to support children in grasping the meaning of words. Question pages create reading breaks and promote text comprehension, now always immediately after each chapter.

Brand new are our reading lions for grade 3 - designed for older children who still struggle with reading and need support. Cool illustrations and an innovative layout are designed to increase motivation in learning to read and provide extra reading fun.

The most important keywords to the relaunch:

- Revised series design and new logos
- New Picture Mouse and Reading Lions characters
- ABeZeh learning-to-read font
- Syllable colouring in 1st and 2nd grade
- Reading lions now also for 3rd grade

About Picture Mouse (Preschool, 5+):

In the Picture Mouse series, exciting stories tell of the adventures of a lovable character or of an exciting setting. In the text, all nouns are replaced by small pictures that children from the age of 5 can recognise and name while reading (aloud) together. In this way, children are gently introduced to the process of reading and have already „read“ their first book before starting school!

Out of the way and watch out!

Wonderfully unique – that's Kalli!

The little desertbabbie can talk to people and animals – and he is the last of his kind. Keeping so much uniqueness a secret is not so easy! No wonder that Kalli really shakes up the life of the Gurkenbrot family and causes a lot of trouble in the wildlife rescue station.

One day there is great turmoil in the Gurkenbrot family's wildlife rescue station: Someone has broken into the feeding chamber! Leo discovers the burglar: a small animal with big ears, blue-turquoise fur, who can speak and exuberantly introduces himself as Kalli. Kalli is the last of his kind and is looking for a new home. Leo immediately realises: the little one must be protected! But how do you keep a constantly chattering, slightly rebellious and chaotic desertbabble a secret?

„Soso“, brummt er und kommt auf sie zu. „Nun wollt ihr auch noch aus unserem Fluss trinken. Aber das läuft nicht.“
„Es ist nicht euer Fluss“, schnaubt Hoka wütend.

Der Fledermaus-Hengst legt die Ohren zurück, und sofort flüchtet Hoka hinter Inas Po. „Wir sind nur durstig. Der Fluss führt doch genug Wasser für uns alle.“

Dann verschwinden wir wieder.“

Der fremde Hengst wirft den Kopf zurück und stellt sich hoch auf die Hinterbeine. „Nein. Ihr verschwindet sofort! Wenn ihr nicht zu uns gehören wollt, habt ihr hier nichts verloren. Oder wagt es etwa ein anderer von euch, gegen mich zu kämpfen?“ Auffordernd schaut er die jungen Hengste an. Mato, Hoka und Neo. Einen nach dem anderen.

Aber der Fledermaus-Hengst galoppiert mit ten hinein ins Wasser und macht warnend den Hals lang. „Keiner von euch trinkt aus meinem Fluss. Ist das klar? Schon gar nicht die kleinen Feiglinge!“

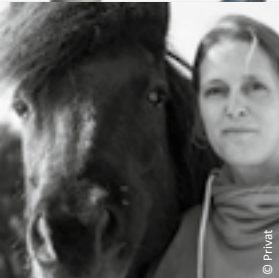

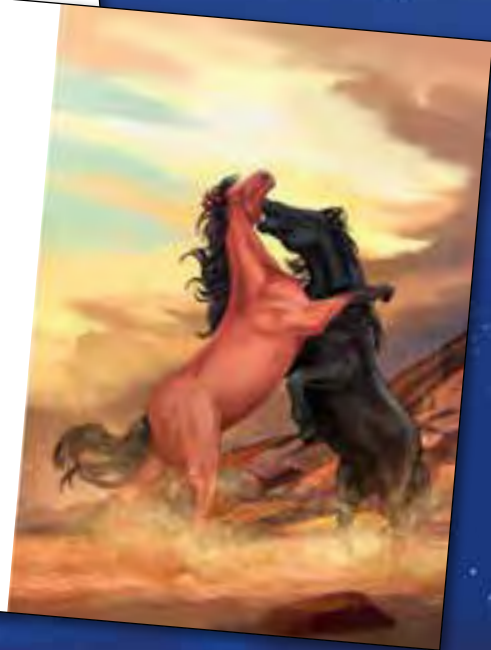

„Ina, wir haben sooooo Durst“, schnauft Kaya. „Keine nicht mehr“, jammert

„Ach ja?“ Der Fledermaus-Hengst richtet sich auf. Aber neben Bull wirkt er beinahe zierlich. Luna drückt sich eng an Anu. „Was machen die denn?“ Kaya weicht ängstlich zurück.

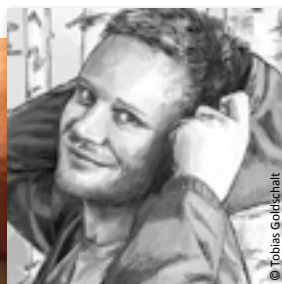

„Sie kämpfen“, weiß Neo. Er stellt sich schützend vor die jungen Stuten.

Die beiden Hengste starren sich feindselig an. Sie umkreisen sich, mitten im Fluss, aber keiner von beiden gibt den Weg frei. Dann schlägt der fremde Hengst mit seinem Vorderhuf aus, und Bull stellt sich auf die Hinterbeine. Das Wasser wirbelt auf, als der Fledermaus-Hengst angreift. Blitzschnell beißt er zu! Aber Bull hat keine Angst vor ihm. Er drängt ihn rückwärts, raus aus dem Fluss. In den Büschen kämpfen sie weiter, aber Bull ist stärker als der fremde Hengst. „Dann holen wir eben welches!“, ruft Tafiti.
„Das ist viel zu gefährlich“, mahnt Opapa.
„Aber ohne Wasser geht es nicht“, wirft

„Wenn wir Glück haben, warten die Hunde

„Schweine? Wo sind Schweine?“ Die Hunde
schauen sich hungrig um.
„Äh, hier?“, stammelt Pinsel verwirrt.

„Komischer Typ“, sagte Muiyi und putzte seinen Flügel. Doch er flog auf, zu den Sternen hinauf, denn er war die Augen der Gruppe, er musste sehen.

Jetzt zitterte die Erde stärker und dann sahen sie die ganz Großen, von denen der Baumschliefer gesprochen hatte: Sie brachen durchs Unterholz und schlangen ihre Rüssel in einem leisen Takt hin und her. Waldelefanten!

Mbula hatte sie noch nie gesehen, die anderen hatten ihr nur davon erzählt, dass es sie gab und dass sie riesig waren. Ihre großen Ohren bewegten sich mit jedem Schritt und schlugen an ihre Flanken. Sie gingen langsam und schaukelnd und dennoch elegant.

Es war eine ganze Herde, sie kam direkt unter dem Baum vorbei, auf dem die Bonobos saßen. Der Baum bebte wie die Erde. In der Mitte der Gruppe neben einem großen Elefanten, ging ein kleiner ein Kind.

In dem Moment, in dem Mbula das Kind sah, landete Muiyi neben ihr, aufgeregt.

„Jäger“, krächzte er. „Der Schliefer hatte recht. Wenn die Elefanten in diese Richtung weiterge-laufen sie ihnen direkt in die Arme. Sie wollen die Stoßzähne, du weißt, wie bei den Flusspferden.“ Mbula sah wieder das Flusspferdkind im Fluss vor sich und die Zähne auf dem Boden der Menschenhöhle. Die Flusspferde, denen diese Zähne gehört hatten, würden nie mehr in einem Fluss spielen.

Kein Ungeziefer. Kein Moder. Keine Krankheiten. Sehr gut.“

Der Kongopapagei ruckte verwundert mit dem Kopf. Diese Affen bauten ein Nest nur für eine einzige Nacht? Was für ein Aufwand.

Doch als er sah, wie gemütlich das Affenkind in dem frischen grünen Blätternest bei seiner Mutter lag, da wurde er selbst sehr, sehr, sehr müde. Und als er sah, wie die Affenmutter auf einer gelben Frucht herumrutschte, wurde er sehr, sehr hungrig.

Da geschah etwas Unerklärliches: Das kleine Bonobokind drehte den Kopf – und sah im Dämmerlicht des Abends den grünen Kongo an. Dann hob es seinen dünnen Arm und wedelte damit. Komm her.

Der junge grüne Kongo landete vorsichtig auf einem Ast weiter unten, hüpfte dann näher ... und saß schließlich auf dem Rand des Nests.

Das Bonobokind krallte sich im Fell der Mutter fest und trank ihre Milch. Dabei ließ es den Papagei die ganze Zeit über nicht aus den Augen. Dann griff es nach einem Stück Frucht, das seine Mutter hatte fallen lassen und das in ihrem Fell klebte, und streckte den kleinen dünnen Arm aus. Es hielt die Frucht zwischen den Fingern. Es hatte gerade erst gelernt, Dinge zu halten, und jetzt hielt es dem grünen Kongopapagei die Frucht hin.

Es war ein Geschenk.

Der Papagei war so verblüfft, dass er erstarrte. Dann nahm er das Stückchen Frucht, ganz vorsichtig, mit seinem starken, gekrümmten Schnabel. Es stillte seinen Hunger. Es war ein Wunder.

The little fox grows up in the countryside, where his parents fight daily for the survival of their pups. They live in a badger's burrow between the people's fields. The fox does not feel at home here. But he firmly believes that there is a place in the world that is meant for him. Luckily, he is good at finding things! He gives himself the name Finder and sets off in search of his home. When Finder hears that there is a city of foxes, he believes he has reached his destination. Here he meets the fox Patria and her family. He observes how the family members look after each other and is amazed to discover that they all always have a full belly. But life in the city has its downsides. If they stay, Finder and Patria will have to pay a high price. Or is there a better place for the two of them after all?

Kira einen Schwall Zahnpasta ins Waschbecken und wiederholte: „Ich putze meine Zähne.“

„Ich muss noch die blöde Gischnachricht für Wassergrafe schreiben.“ Marie drängte sich an Kira vorbei, wusch den Schaum aus ihrer Schüssel und befüllte sie mit frischem Wasser. Sämtliche Waschbecken auf der Wellenkron hatten zwei Wasserhähne. Aus einem kam Trinkwasser und aus dem anderen jenes Meerwasser, das den Kiel des Schulschiffs gerade umspülte.

„Na dann, viel Spaß“, sagte Kira und schlich auf Zehenspitzen davon.

Marie wunderte sich. Kira hatte sich in den letzten Wochen ganz schön verändert. Die Momente, die sie mit den anderen Schülern des ersten Jahrgangs verbrachte, waren selten geworden. Natürlich saßen sie zusammen im Unterricht, doch sobald die Schiffsglocke den Beginn des Nachmittags einläutete, verschwand Kira. Manchmal meldete sie sich für einen Extradienst an Deck, aber oft kam es Marie so vor, als verschluckte der Bauch der Wellenkron ihre Freundin einfach. Dann fehlte von Kira und ihrer kleinen Schildkröte Nanami jede Spur. Sie schien eine wahre Meisterin im Verstecken zu sein, denn nicht einmal Adrian war ihr bisher auf die Schliche gekommen. Kira war einfach zu schnell. Ein unbeobachteter Moment und weg war sie.

Als Marie zurück in den Studierraum kam, hatte Adrian bereits die Hälfte seiner Nachricht in die Gischt gezeichnet. Das Ergebnis konnte sich durchaus sehen lassen.

„Versuch Nummer drei.“ Marie ließ erneut den Kompass kreisen. Diesmal mit etwas mehr Abstand zur Wasseroberfläche. Der Schaum, der dabei entstand, war nicht besonders fest. Die Symbole ihrer Form nicht beibehalten und Marie musste ihnen unzählige Male nachziehen.

„Ich finde, es ist perfekt.“ Adrian verstaut hob auch Ava Krull ihren Kompass. Ein Lichtblitz löste sich, flog durch die Luft und prallte gegen die Wasserhose. An jener Stelle, an der der Blitz eingeschlagen war, wurde die Wasserhose durchsichtig. Stanislaus Himmelrot und Vita Wasserkind verloren ihre Tarnung und Flurin Apfelbeck wusste, wohin er seinen Strahl lenken musste. Stanislaus schrie und duckte sich blitzschnell, um dem Angriff zu entkommen. Die Wasserhose schlug einen geschickten Haken, den man ihr aufgrund der Größe nicht zugetraut hätte. Sie wirbelte nun in die andere Richtung, der Mauer entgegen, von der die Insel immer noch umgeben war. „Noch einmal“, rief Flurin Apfelbeck der Schulleiterin zu. Beide hoben ihre Kompass und starteten den zweiten Versuch. Diesmal wurde die Wasserhose an einer ungünstigen Stelle von dem Lichtblitz getroffen und hinter dem weißen Schaum konnte Marie den Wal sehen, der meterhoch über der Wasseroberfläche im Kreis herumgewirbelt wurde. Er krümmte sich, doch er war Stanislaus Himmelrots Macht hilflos ausgeliefert. Flurin Apfelbecks messerscharfer Strahl drang weiter unten in die Wasserhose ein und riss einen tiefen Schnitt hinein.

Ein Schrei ertönte und Marie sah, dass Valerian Winkelherz innehielt.

„Nein!“, rief Nell, denn er hatte Vitas Stimme erkannt. Es blieb keine Zeit, weiter darüber nachzudenken, denn die Wasserhose hatte die Mauer erreicht und durchbrach sie, als bestünde sie nicht aus meterdickem Eis, sondern aus Papier. Erneut änderte Stanislaus die Richtung und steuerte zielsicher auf die Wellenkron zu. Flurin Apfelbeck schoss einen weiteren Strahl hinter ihm her, aber es war zu spät. Die Wasserhose streifte das Schulschiff und KIRA GEMBRI was born in Vienna in 1990, the second oldest of five children. She remained faithful to this beautiful city even after completing her studies in Comparative Literature. She shares her love of books with her young daughter, who is a firm believer in fairy tales. By the way, she doesn't have any mythical creatures living with her – but she does have a cat who was definitely a leprechaun in his former life.

As a child, Julian sometimes has visions. Some of his classmates wear strange markers on their faces or bodies that only he can see and that all frightens him. The red cloud, for example, which always covers Verena's legs. Or the pale grey mist that flows from Lars' eyes. But since Julian has been taking the right medication, the problem has disappeared. They were just faulty circuits in the brain, says his therapist. Meaningless mirages. At a class reunion years later, Julian meets Verena again. A shock: the girl who used to be so sporty is in a wheelchair. When he investigates, he discovers that bad things have also happened to other "marked" people. Coincidences? Were his mirages really so meaningless? Or was he able to see shadows cast by the future?

Mika does not know what it means to have a real family. His parents are trapped in their addiction and hardly care about him. The hope that something will change finally dies when the Youth Welfare Office one day sends Mika away against his will: out of town, to a farm with a seemingly perfect foster family. He has no desire whatsoever to play the ideal world, but little by little, Joanna, who is the same age as Mika, makes his hard wall crumble. And while Mika learns to hope again, he does everything not to lose his heart ...

In her new young adult novel for readers aged 14 and up, SPIEGEL bestselling author Ava Reed sensitively addresses serious issues such as drug addiction, violence and exclusion and shows that family is so much more than just a word with six letters.

Oscar and his friends love to party. And there's one thing they can't do it without, of course: Alcohol. But when his sixteenth birthday gets out of hand, Oscar has to do community service instead of partying. He has to take care of the dog that he fed alcohol to in a drunken stupor. But the more time Oscar spends on the farm, the more urgently he asks himself: Who are his true friends? And is there perhaps more to life than one intoxication after another?

In Our Blue Nights, Annette Mierswa impressively describes the great role alcohol plays in the lives of many young people and how quickly consumption becomes a compulsion. In doing so, she creates a moving story that not only depicts the negative consequences of alcohol abuse, but also shows ways out of it and gives courage.

Unter der Bank am Eingang lagen ein Paar Filzmützen, eine Lederhandschuhleiste und ein Paar Lederhandschuhe.

„Unserem Dieb scheint warm genug zu sein“, witzelte Lena. „Er sicherte das Beweismaterial, während ich die Spuren im Sand des Parkweges untersuchte.“

„Wusst ihr, was mich wundert?“, murmelte Leon, als sie der Spur in den Park hinein folgten. „Warum hat sich der Täter das Stück zum Haupteingang überhaupt fahren lassen? Wenn er in den Park flüchten wollte, hätte er gleich vom Hotel aus hinlaufen können.“

Till hielt an einer Übersichtstafel des Parks. „Du hast recht. Der Prinzenpark reicht fast an die Rückseite vom Superia Mare heran.“

„Das ist echt seltsam“, fand auch Lena.

Die Piranha-Piraten liefen bis zur Mitte des Parks weiter. Hier standen die Büsche in dichten Gruppen und der Weg machte einen Bogen. Plötzlich hielt Lena die Jungen an den Ärmeln fest.

„Halt! Nicht weitergehen!“, flüsterte sie. „Schaut doch mal, wer da ist...“

Wen hatte Lena entdeckt?

TATORT BAHNHOF 1. O SCHRECK!

Zwei Tage später saßen die Detektive mit Henning und Knut Jensen an Bord der Meeresperle und feierten ihren Erfolg.

„Potzdonner! Das war ja wohl wieder ein dolles Abenteuer für euch“, meinte der alte Seebär.

„Ja, ich habe die Tierfänger gleich auf den Fahndungsplakaten erkannt“, erzählte Lena stolz.

„Die Phantombilder stammten von einem Diebstahl in einem Pelzgeschäft“, ergänzte Henning. „Wir hatten keine Ahnung, wer die Männer waren. Aber durch die genaue Beschreibung des Wagens hat ihn die Streife im Nachbarort gestern eindeutig wiedererkannt. Sie brauchten den Tätern nur dorthin zu folgen, wo Casar, Diva und all die anderen Katzen versteckt waren.“

Till seufzte. „Ich hätte die Kerle am liebsten selbst verhaftet.“

„Ja, das müsst ihr“, meinte auch sein Onkel. „Sonst könntest du selbst für so gewitzte Sprossen wie euch mal brenzlig werden.“

„Keine Panik, auf deine Sachen passt Schumacher auf“, beruhigte Leon seine Schwester.

Wo befand sich Lenas Handy?

This collection is the perfect gift for all craft fans, because with 82 pages and a colourful selection of themes, it is guaranteed that you will find something for everyone! According to the well-known "Let's Do Arts and Crafts!" principle first the perforated page needs to be torn off and then the designs can be coloured in. After that the little crafters can cut out the designs along the extra thick outlines and glue them onto the background pictures. The finished pictures on the solution page can be helpful. This makes crafting child's play!

Series Info:

For more than 45 years, Reading Lions has been helping first-time readers learn to read. For the Reading Lions learning aids, we have developed high-quality learning content that paves the way for successful reading and writing with an experienced educator. Based on the first and second grade curricula, the modern illustrated booklets provide numerous practice opportunities – from reading and writing first letters to linking simple words with the help of rules and structures of the written language to understanding and creating smaller texts. The increasing level of difficulty and the tricky tasks motivate, while the helpful tips and the coloured syllable markings support text comprehension exercises. This guarantees learning success!

LEARNING TO WRITE WITH TRACING GROOVES
Cursive Writing

no. 1582

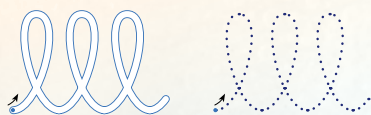

colourful illustrations by Carmen Eisendle

Published in July 2023

48 pages

All Rights available.

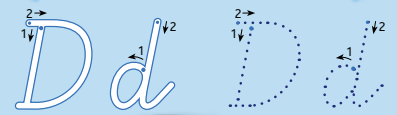

Schoolchildren watch out, here comes cursive writing! In this block, children from the age of 6 learn the simplified initial writing. They are supported by the deeply embossed lines in the paper, which help them first to get to know the shape of the letters so that they can then write them independently. The additional tasks help them to memorise what they have learned quickly and in a playful way.

CARMEN EISENDLE, has been passionate about drawing since her childhood. She grew up in an idyllic village surrounded by many animals and nature, her favourite motifs. After graduating in media informatics, she now works as a freelance illustrator. She illustrates children's books and designs for T-shirts and other products. Together with her three children and her husband, she currently lives in Lana near Merano.

with Tracing Grooves

- ✓ Improvement of the handwriting
- ✓ Precise pencil guidance through pre-embossed lines
- ✓ With varied texts and solutions

When Santa Claus sets out to visit the Yeti family, dragons help little elves wrap presents and pink pigs cause chaos under the Christmas tree - the Advent season can only be good.

This Advent calendar contains five new, funny and entertaining stories by four great authors, spread over 24 days. Whether as a bedtime story in the evening or for the experienced beginning reader to read on their own - these stories will definitely bring fun into the pre-Christmas season.

EVA HIERTEIS, born in 1972, as a child dreamed of writing books. After studying literature and working for a children's book publisher for a few years, she fulfilled her dream. She lives with her family in Nuremberg.

ANNA TAUBE studied literature at the University of Hildesheim and works as a freelance author and translator. She lives with her family in the idyllic Bad Rodach in Upper Franconia.

ANN-KATRIN HEGER worked for many years as an editor for various children's and young adults' book publishers before becoming a freelance author. She lives in Fürth with her husband, her children, her cat and her books.

VANESSA WALDER was born in Heidelberg in 1978 and grew up in Vienna. Since 2001, many of her books have been published in 33 languages. Today she lives in the south of Berlin. There is no Christkindmarkt there, but the most beautiful Advent markets.

The Little Bell's advent calendar is here!

- ✓ Advent Calendar Book with 24 little doors on the cover
- ✓ Story told continuously in 24 chapters
- ✓ For children aged 8 older and the whole family

LITTLE BELL, THE CHRISTMAS PONY
My Advent Calendar Book – A Magical Wish
no. 1639
colourful illustrations by Julia Gerigk
Published in September 2023
128 pages
All Rights available.

Santa discovers a village on the map from which he has not received a single letter. How is that possible? Together with his friends Björn and Jasper, Little Bell sets off for this village. When they arrive they cannot get over their shock: Nothing is decorated, as if Christmas didn't even exist! The mayor of the village has banned everything that has to do with the festivity. But people miss Christmas very much. Little Bell must find out where the mayor's resentment comes from. Will the little pony succeed in bringing the celebration of love and friendship back to the village?

JULIA GERIGK, born in 1981, studied communication design with a focus on editorial design and illustration in Hamburg. She published her first children's books while still a student. Today she works exclusively as a freelance illustrator, her special passion still being children's books. She lives with her dogs and horses in the countryside in Mecklenburg-Vorpommern.

ANNETTE MOSER was born in Hamburg in 1978. She studied German and art history in Bamberg and Rome. Afterwards, she worked for several years as an editor in a children's and young adults' book publishing house. Making up her own stories has always been her dream. Today she lives with her family in Landshut and devotes herself entirely to writing.

Meet our Loewe Licence-Team

We love stories that make reading fun! With our innovative books, 160-year tradition and great passion, we have been pursuing the goal of promoting reading from the very beginning. Whether it's a heartwarming tale of friendship between a child and the last survivor of an almost extinct species, a spine-tingling thriller, or the relaunch of a series that has already charmed over millions of young readers, there will always be a book that will capture your imagination. Because we believe that every child or young adult, regardless of their reading level, should find a book that leaves them awestruck with a resounding „Wow“ on their lips. Enjoy diving into our incredibly versatile program!
