Story

In the Dungeon of the City of Ruins

Nano and Maffi want to organise a party with their friends Bingo and Poka. Without the adults, of course! So they celebrate in secret in the cave underneath the village. When the four of them are attacked by monsters, they get lost in the depths of the cave passages during their escape and end up in a city of ruins. The people there live in fear of the evil blind warden, who attacks whenever anyone makes a noise. Children are not welcome here and so the friends are taken prisoner. But Nano has an idea how he can free them all and drive the warden away ...

Loewe Wow! meets Minecraft: the perfect mix for all fans of computer games and adventure stories! With lots of action, humour and cool black and white illustrations.

Karl Olsberg

Karl Olsberg completed his doctorate on artificial intelligence, was a management consultant, manager at a TV station and founded several start-ups. His first novel "Das System" was published in 2007 and immediately made it onto the Spiegel bestseller list. Since then, he has not only successfully written novels for adults, but also for young people and children. The thriller "Boy in a White Room" was nominated for the German Youth Literature Prize 2018. His Minecraft novels, which he initially self-published, reached number 2 on the Amazon bestseller list. In addition, his start-up "Papego", which develops the app of the same name for mobile reading of printed books, was honoured as "Content Start-up of the Year 2016" at the Frankfurt Book Fair. The author lives with his family in Hamburg.
