Story

Do you know the Hackebart family? Thirteen-year-old Brooklyn is super sensible, Zosch, eleven, is a passionate sportsman and gambler (Brawl Stars is his favourite). Lulu, at six, is the youngest and highly gifted, and eight-year-old Mönkemeyer lives exclusively for art – especially early 20th century abstract painting. When the family runs into money trouble because of a „mishap“ Mönkemeyer had at the local art museum, Brooklyn signs them all up for a quiz show on TV. Will the Hackebarts become millionaires? The chances are good. After all, they have Lulu.

A hilarious family story, narrated by Markus Orths and congenially illustrated by Horst Klein. For reading aloud and on your own, and for family time on the sofa in the evening.

- For fans of The Simpsons
- Lots of humour and situation comedy

- Quirky black and white illustrations

Markus Orths

Markus Orths lives in Karlsruhe and writes his books there from morning to evening. He has already completed 15 books for adults and nine for children. Naturally, he writes the children's books for his own children as well, three in total. Any similarities between the Hackebart family and the Orths family are purely coincidental. Well, at least most of them.
